

AS FAMON said; "Mr. Minette, there comes a moment when tenacity becomes morbid perseverance." This moment came for myself a month ago. Until then I had been seeking ~~medico-legal~~ logical arguments that might "win" the appeals of victims of asbestos in respect of their claims for disability benefit. The culmination was not in itself an argument I had set out for a victim's appeal. ~~It was, a~~ This argument was in process. It just suddenly dawned on me the ^{misadventures} situation victims were in. Or, to put it more correctly, it suddenly dawned on me the reality of the lengths to which the authorities will go to pervert ~~the~~ justice. In this particular case either Simpson or Williamson of the SMIB had disputed the cause of death on a death certificate. Their ^{basis for the} ~~disputation~~ ^{in order to cheat a widow out of a pension} was consolidated by Dr Allen ^{clerk} of the MAT. There are obvious questions arising from this and mainly these questions are the stuff of which concerned me for some 9 months of advocacy. I am no longer involved in the values that give rise to it. The authorities will go to any
